

maneet

Maneet has always had a passion for taking care of babies and newborns. Her experience with lending a helping hand to relatives throughout the years have made my role as a doula very natural and organic. She chose this profession because she believes that my calm and caring nature would be an attribute to new parents. My expertise also includes experience with twins and diverse, busy households.

Client Feedback

"Maneet would come two nights a week to allow me some extra hours of sleep, handling the middle-of-the-night bottle. She is very kind and gentle, and showed obvious affection for our baby."

"Maneet cared about me and made me feel like my baby was in safe hands. I was so sad when we no longer needed her help but am grateful for all she did for my family."

"This was the best gift ever! Maneet was amazing, She gave me time to rest and recover while I could trust her to watch my baby boy. She gave good advice and I became more and more secure in handling the situation on my own. I can highly recommend this service to every new mom."
